NONPARTISANS CONSIDERING ORGANIZATION PLAN

NATIONAL COMMITTEE URGES ORGANIZERS UNDER TOWNLEY UNDERTAKE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

State Committee on Other Hand Urges that Organization Work in North Dakota Be Handled by Nonpartisan State Committee—Committees Declare There Is No Hostility in Difference of Opinion and Each Will Abide by Decision of Convention—Third Ticket Plan to be Discussed

Three distinct propositions were outlined for consideration of the Nonpartisan League state convention which got under way at Patterson hall promptly at 10 o'clock this morning. They were:

1. Whether to put organization plans in the hands of the national executive committee or in the hands of the North Dakota executive committee.
  2. What to do, if anything, with the Fargo Courier-News.
  3. Whether or not to endorse candidates for the Industrial Commission offices—governor, attorney general, commissioner of agriculture and labor—to run independently in the fall election, and possibly an entire state ticket.
- The first question taken up by the convention was that of the method to be pursued in organization, with Stephen Terhorst outlining briefly the state executive committee's plan, William Lemke outlining the national executive committee's plan, and A. C. Townley, national organizer, outlining the two plans. General discussion was invited to follow on these questions, and it appeared that it would be well along in the afternoon before any conclusion could be reached by the delegates.

There were probably 250 men and women in the hall during the convention, including a large number of delegates who had been present at the state convention in Fargo last March. The convention today was called jointly by the state and national executive committees.

In the lobbies last night and today there was discussed the question of what will be done by the league this fall, but this matter had not been reached on the convention floor this afternoon. It was plain that the thing uppermost in the minds of the leaders of the league was the election of Lynn J. Frazier to be United States Senator. All their activities will be pointed toward this end.

Frazier's Election Uppermost
Several of the league leaders want to demand support for Frazier from all the voters in the state as a Republican. F. W. Cathro, former manager of the Bank of North Dakota, voiced this idea.

"We hold," said Mr. Cathro, "that the only two real Republican factions are the Nonpartisan league and the McCumber Republicans. They are conservative; we are progressive, but both are interested in preserving the Republican party. The I. V. A. cannot claim to be real Republicans. They have made an open agreement to fuse with the Democrats, to support Democrats for office. If Governor Frazier goes to the senate, you may be sure that the interests of the farm bloc, northwest agriculture are not paramount; he will be found on party questions voting with the 'Republicans in the United States Senate.'"

Plans Outlined
The convention was called to order by W. J. Church, chairman of the state executive committee. The convention resolved to continue the officers of the last state convention, and J. C. Miller, of Bottineau, assumed the chairmanship of the convention. The state and national executive committees agreed upon a method of procedure. This called for consideration first of the organization plan.

Stephen Terhorst, speaking for the state committee, said the state committee's plans proposed that organization and direction of the league should be in its hands; that it would work with executive committees in counties in which there were such committees and that it would organize independently in counties in which there were no committees. Membership dues would be paid to the state committee and the state committee would have power to send paid organizers into the field. He did not say what membership fee was proposed, but it was understood it was to be $10 or $12 for a two-year membership.

Lemke's Idea
William Lemke, speaking for the national executive committee, said that the committee proposed that organization would be in the hands of that committee; that the membership fee would be $6.30 for two years, this to include a subscription to the North Dakota Leader and the National Nonpartisan Leader, and expenses of organizing. A separate drive would be started to obtain money with which to pay off accommodation notes which farmers have signed for the league organization, he said. This drive would be separate from the membership campaign.

Mr. Lemke dwelt especially upon the obligation he said Mr. Townley, himself and F. B. Wood felt regarding the accommodation notes. He said that accommodation notes had been given by farmers to meet league expenses and that the league could not clear its obligations because farmers did not pay $800,000 of post-dated checks which had been given. The membership of the league, he said, should see that the accommodation notes are paid.

Mr. Lemke declared the league (Continued on Page 3)

MESSANGER IS RELIEVED OF $12,000

Milwaukee, Wis., July 15.—A messenger from the Edmonds Shoe Company, accompanied by three armed guards was held up near the company's plant and relieved of $12,000 this forenoon by several armed bandits in an automobile. The money consisted of pay roll funds drawn from a local bank.

FORD'S SHOALS OFFER IS LOST IN COMMITTEE

Agriculture Committee of Senate Votes Against It by 9 to 7 Vote

TO GO UPON FLOOR

Senator Norris Will Present Report on Enterprise for Final Vote

Washington, July 15.—Henry Ford's offer for purchase and lease of the government's projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, was rejected by the senate agriculture committee today by a vote of 9 to 7.

Those voting for a favorable report included Senator Capper and Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota.

Despite the adverse votes the proposals of Henry Ford and Senator Norris will be presented to the senate for final decision through minority reports, it was explained by Chairman Norris.

The bill introduced by Chairman Norris calling for operation of the projects by a government owned and controlled corporation also was rejected, the vote being 9 to 5. Voting for rejection was Senator Ladd.

The other offers, including those of the Alabama Power Company, Frederick E. Engstrom and Charles L. Engstrom and Charles L. Parsons, also were rejected without a record vote. The committee also voted down without a record vote the bill introduced by Senator Norris at request of former Representative Lloyd of Missouri, proposing a semi-governmental corporation.

SWITCHMAN MEETS DEATH

Falls Underneath Wheels of Freight Train in Minot

Minot, N. D., July 15.—F. R. Purdy, 26, switchman employed by the Great Northern railway in Minot, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock when he fell underneath the wheels of a freight train, which was being switched in the local yards. The wheels of the train passed directly over the abdomen, nearly severing the body in two.

According to a report of the accident made to W. F. Cloone, yardmaster, Mr. Purdy was getting down off from a car when he evidently slipped and fell, landing under the wheels of the train.

TUCKER TO GO TO CONFERENCE

Rate Reductions to Harvest Workers Vital Question

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., July 15.—George Tucker, field representative of the United States Employment bureau, now at Aberdeen, South Dakota, and a representative of the Fargo commercial club will attend a conference on rate reductions to harvest workers to be held at St. Paul next Monday morning. It was announced here today. The meeting called at the request of Governor R. A. Nestos, of North Dakota, will include officials of the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and Santa Fe railroads.

NATIONAL ARMY TROOPS WIN

(By the Associated Press)
Dublin, July 15.—After four hours fighting, the national army troops, under command of Commandant General John J. McKenna, today captured the town of Collooney, six miles south of Sligo, taking seventy prisoners with a large quantity of arms, ammunition and bombs.

Heavy rains have wrecked Corone, a town of the Adriatic coast, by sinking into the seabed and undermining the foundations.

LIMITED AREA IN COUNTY IS CUT BY HAIL

Heavy Damage Is Reported in Baldwin County and East of There

NONE IN SOUTHEAST

Moffit Reports no Damage, and Wilton, Regan and Wing Also Escaped Loss

A terrific electrical and rain storm, bringing with it hail, caused considerable damage in Burleigh county last night. A canvass of the county made by The Tribune with the assistance of telephone operators at various stations revealed the heaviest damage from hail in the Baldwin county, north of the city, east and southwest through Cromwell and Naughton townships to the vicinity of McKenzie.

Hard rains were reported at Regan and Wing, but no hail. Moffit, southeast, reported hard rains but with only a small amount of hail. The storm seems to have centered in a few townships in the north central part of the county.

A farmer three miles north of McKenzie reported that the hail was so large it broke windows and that one field looked as if a roller had gone over it. Another farmer, 7-12 miles north of McKenzie, said that damage was virtually 700 per cent in that section. A farmer 12 miles northwest of McKenzie reported there was some hail, but not enough to do much damage.

The north half of Naughton township was badly damaged by hail, but the south half of the township was not damaged at all, according to a farmer living in that township. Salsberg's farm in Naughton township reported a 25 per cent damage. That vicinity, but said the north two tiers of the township suffered total loss and that Cromwell township suffered a heavier loss than Naughton.

Wilton reported there was no hail around Wilton or Regan, although there was a good rain. There was hail at Baldwin which caused much damage. It was reported covering the depot platform this morning. Moffit, in the extreme southwest of the county, reported there was some hail but there was little damage, and that the rain would carry the crops through to maturity.

Several miles east of Bismarck there was some hail but not much damage. The same report came from a point several miles southeast of the city.

Wing reported that there was some rain at Wing, but no hail, while 12 miles north of Wing there was a little rain.

Additional reports said that south and east of Baldwin the hail damage was heavy. A diagonal strip from a point east of Menoken north to Cromwell township was in the path of the worst of the storm, it was indicated.

Farmers Report Losses
Hail losses of farmers living from 5 to 12 miles north of Bismarck average from 25 to 100 per cent, according to reports which were being made to the office of County Auditor F. J. Johnson early this afternoon. Gabel Bros., Engdahl, Victor Monier, and Savage sustained very heavy losses on their farms north of town.

C. M. Whitner stated that losses in the north eastern part of Oliver county would amount to 75 or 90 per cent. The storm started in the eastern part of Oliver county, he said, and then swept on over the state just hitting in certain parts. The losses are reported to be more or less scattering rather than complete in certain counties and districts.

NEIGHBOR DOING GOOD TURN NOT HELD LIABLE

A neighbor is not liable for the death of his neighbor's hogs because of "dope" he offered the neighbor to prevent cholera among them, the supreme court ruled in reviewing a case in the Cass county district court.

John Kittleton, defendant and appellant, gave some "dope" he had bought to be used for pig cholera to Ed W. Johnson, tenant and neighbor, in Traill county near Galesburg, when an epidemic of hog cholera was raging in the neighborhood. The "dope" chemists found contained ingredients which caused the death of 19 pigs to which it was given. Johnson sued Kittleton and got a verdict. The supreme court reversed it.

Decision was handed down today in the last case on the supreme court calendar, the case of Wm. O. Wentz, et al. against Clara M. Wentz, et al. Dieckman county, being affirmed. Plaintiff had appealed.

SCENES IN RAILROAD STRIKE AT SLATER, MO., AS UNITED STATES DEPUTY MARSHALS TAKE CHARGE

Slater, Mo., is the first city in the country where federal marshals took command after local authorities failed to keep order in connection with the strike of railroad shopmen. The pictures above show strike scenes in and around Slater. O. A. "Buck" Lindsey, United States marshal in charge of the government force, is shown at the upper left. Upper right shows pickets of the striking shopmen gathered at the depot to inspect trains coming into Slater for work to be done at the Chicago & Alton shops. Lower left shows E. L. Marquette, superintendent of the Chicago & Alton, at Slater working as an inspector of airbrakes. Lower right shows William Hawley behind the bars. Hawley is the first striker to be arrested at Slater. He defied "Buck" Lindsey and crossed the "dead line" that has been established between the C. & A. shops and the city.

COMMUNITY SECRETARIES HEAR TALKS

Tonight the Delegates Leave to Visit Minnesota Iron Range Over Sunday

Duluth, July 15.—Minnesota community secretaries in session here today heard a series of addresses on a variety of subjects. Speakers and their subjects were: Harrison Fuller, St. Paul, "Prevention of Grains Rust"; J. E. Tatum, Minneapolis, "Radio, Its Advantages to the Small Town"; Frank Cleveland, Milwaukee Association of Commerce, "Convention Problems"; F. S. McGargar, secretary Montevideo Commercial club, "Community Sales"; and K. E. Stanton, livestock representative St. Paul Association, "Livestock and Marketing."

The delegates will leave tonight for an over-Sunday trip on the Minnesota Iron Range.

COERCION IN CASE ALLEGED

Attempt Made in Obenchain Case, Witness Says

(By the Associated Press)
Los Angeles, July 15.—Witnesses attempted to cover him into testifying today for the prosecution were waiting on the witness stand yesterday by George Holmes, a defense witness at the trial of Mrs. Mudalyne Obenchain, for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Holmes, a negro sailor and former cell mate of Paul Roman, a convict, swore the latter had endeavored to persuade him to testify he had seen notes passed to Roman by Mrs. Obenchain. He also said he had twice written of the defendant.

No session of the trial was held today, adjournment until Monday having been taken yesterday.

FOOD SHORTAGE NOW THREATENS CIVILIAN POPULATION IN IRELAND

(By the Associated Press)
London, July 15.—A serious food shortage threatens the civilian population in the areas occupied by the Republican military forces in Ireland, according to a statement from the Free State sources. From Westford, Limerick, Waterford, Tallow in county Carlow and several other places came stories of serious privations, ascribed mainly to the commandeering of food supplies for the use of the insurgent troops. These supplies, it is said, have been seized without the least regard for the needs of the people, and without compensation to the owners.

WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, July 15.—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday:

Region of the Great Lakes—Generally fair with temperature somewhat above normal but with a probability of widely scattered thunder showers. Upper Mississippi Valley—Generally fair, temperature near or somewhat above normal, but with a probability of widely scattered thunder showers.

JOB OFFICE FOR BISMARCK

Branch of U. S. State Labor Bureau Opened

An employment office operated by the government and state employment services will be opened in Bismarck today, to continue in operation until the close of the harvest season.

Quarters have been obtained in the former Bismarck theater, in the Webb block on Main street. Herman G. Brocopp will be in charge of the office and R. G. Catron, deputy commissioner of agriculture and labor, also will give attention to the office. The local office will be one of several to be maintained throughout the state for the purpose of distributing farm laborers. The Bismarck office will handle territory on the railroad entering the city and all counties west of the Missouri river. It will be in touch with other employment offices and the state headquarters in the offices of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor.

Farmers may call or write the office for information, it is stated by Commissioner of Agriculture Kitchen.

STATE FAIR IS ALL READY

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., July 15.—With the largest entry lists on record, everything is ready for the opening of the North Dakota state fair here next Monday, according to F. W. Roberts, fair association secretary.

The Provisional Free State government, fully aware of these conditions is planning energetic efforts to restore order, and it is generally expected the national forces will soon make an important move. Michael Collins, Free State commander in chief, and his staff are working at high pressure and General Owen O'Duffy is said to have been given chief command of the operation in the south, the main stronghold of the Republicans.

EMPLOYMENT PLAN ADOPTED BY ENGINEERS

Eventually to Maintain State Office with Paid Secretary to Secure Places

Plans for establishing a state employment service for engineers were formulated by the Bismarck chapter of the American Association of Engineers, meeting for luncheon at Clifford's cafe last night. J. E. Kaulfuss consented to act as temporary employment secretary.

The plan, which is in accordance with the action of the recent national convention of engineers, contemplates eventually an established employment office with a paid secretary. There are, it is estimated, between 175 and 200 engineers in North Dakota.

William Barneke talked upon the proposed license law for engineers. He said that protection was necessary for the engineers because South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota, neighboring states, have such license laws and to protect the public against imposition by those who claim to be engineers.

E. M. Thompson of the Bismarck bank talked upon the relation of depositors and the bank and F. E. Diehl of the Home Building Association gave a satirical talk upon "The Inaccurate Profession."

FEDERAL SPUD GRADES USED

Minnesota Makes Rules Conform to Those of U. S.

St. Paul, Minn., July 15.—Change of Minnesota potato grades to conform to the recently adopted United States grades was announced by N. J. Holmberg, commissioner of agriculture, yesterday, at a meeting of producers and shippers on proposed grades of farm produce.

The change in the potato grading, Mr. Holmberg said, is necessary in order to keep Minnesota shipments in line with the market demand in the large consuming centers.

Grade No. 1, as now described, shall consist of "sound potatoes of similar varieties characterized by which are practically free from dirt or other foreign matter, frost injury, sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, cuts, scab, blight, soft rot, and damage caused by disease or mechanical or other means."

"The diameter of the potatoes of the round variety," the order reads "shall not be less than one and seven eighths inches and of potatoes of the long varieties, one and three-fourths inches."

PLAN TO PUT NON-UNION MEN IN ALL SHOPS

Railroad Executives Believe Railroad Labor Board's Efforts Have Failed

WHITE HOUSE HOPEFUL

Government Officials Will Cling to Belief that Strike May Be Settled

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, July 15.—Hearings will be held by the senate interstate commerce committee to initiate revision of the transportation act, and deal with problems developed by the present strike, Chairman Cummins stated today.

White house officials still expressed hope of peace today despite the apparent failure of railroad labor board members to obtain a settlement.

Railroad executives on the other hand have practically abandoned all hope and are prepared to open all shops with non-union men while the national strike committee conferred over yesterday's peace proposals.

Inspectors for Secretary of War Weeks and Governor Neff of Texas were to report on whether troops should be sent to protect railroad property at Denison, Texas.

Slight disorders occurred at Chattanooga, Pennsylvania, and Chattanooga, Tennessee. All other trouble centers reported quiet.

The postoffice department inaugurated motor mail transport between Bedford and Swit City, Indiana.

The American Federation of railroad workers local at Cleveland voted to go on strike next Monday. Many members have already quit.

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, July 15.—The peace dove which yesterday flitted between separate gatherings of railroad executives and leaders of the striking crafts today bore a somewhat wilted olive branch which Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board hopefully tried to freshen.

Mr. Hooper announced he had encountered "fundamental" difficulties in his efforts to bring about peace, but with more parleys in prospect, the situation gave promise of a new approach to a settlement, or at least to negotiations out of which some agreement might be reached to meet on common ground.

Rail heads and strike leaders met in separate rooms at the same hotel, where Mr. Hooper kept in touch with both gatherings.

Grable Faces Rebellion.
E. F. Grable, president of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance Employees and Railway Shop Laborers who faced rebellion in the ranks of his organization, left Chicago for Washington with the avowed intention of fighting every move of the "red flag" element in the ranks. He declared no strike action by maintenance men would be sanctioned by him unless the men "coerced" into it by railroads attempting to force maintenance men to perform duties usually done by shopmen now on strike. Mr. Grable went to Washington to confer with President Harding on the threatened walkout by common labor on the roads. The encouragement in Mr. Grable's attitude was partially offset by the strike call to stationary firemen, engineers and others who were authorized by their international president Timothy Healy, to walk out of their jobs next Monday. Disorders in connection with the strike were largely confined to the south and southwest.

Troops Relieved.
Troops at Poplar Bluff, Mo., were relieved by other detachments of Missouri national guard and the town remains quiet.

At Tulsa, Okla., a guard for the Midland Valley was wounded in a sharp clash between guards and strike sympathizers at Lefebvre.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., Bernard Mallon, Jr., attaché of the office of the general manager of the Southern railroad was held up by masked men, beaten and stabbed.

Two strike-breakers were taken from a train at Memphis and beaten and a deputy sheriff was wounded in a riot at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central in Chicago.

Governor Davis of Ohio ordered mobilization of state troops in preparation for any trouble which might arise in connection with the strike. United States marshals and extra forces of deputies were placed on guard over mails and railroad property at Roanoke, Va., Los Angeles and Toledo, Ohio.

Fire Break Out.
Four mysterious fires broke out in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul shops at Tacoma, Wash., but little damage resulted.

Bloomington and Clinton, Ill., scenes of early disturbances remained quiet with civil authorities augmenting peace forces by extra deputies in preparation for taking over.

BUILDING A MONSTER DIRIGIBLE

Will Be Fully as Big as the Ill-Fated ZR-2, Which Collapsed in England

ASSEMBLING UNDER WAY

Nineteen Balloons to Furnish Lifting Power—Being Built in Akron, O.

Philadelphia, July 15.—A monster dirigible, the ZR-1, is being built in the aircraft factory of the Philadelphia Navy Yard. It is to be fully as big as that ill-fated leviathan of the air, the ZR-2, which collapsed and fell flaming into the Hull River in England last summer bringing a terrible death to more than a score of its crew. As fast as the parts are completed here they are sent to the hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., which will be the home port of the giant airship. It is expected that by next April the ZR-1 will be ready for its first flight.

This dirigible will be the first of the Zeppelin type to have been built in this country. Commander Westervelt and his associates in the naval aircraft factory are being guided in the construction of the ZR-1 by the tragedies of similar craft.

A principal difference between the Philadelphia-built dirigible and that which collapsed over Hull is the strengthening of every second duraluminum ring instead of every third ring as in the ZR-2. This strengthening is accomplished by tying each section of the ZR-2-sided rings (polygons), which will support the frame work, with the strongest possible strands of copper wire. Seventy miles of such copper wire will be used, and the result, it is said, will give the framework a resistance greater even than that constructed of steel. Duraluminum is an alloy of aluminum and copper and is used because of its qualities of lightness and strength.

Three ribs erected

The work of assembling the ZR-1 is already under way at Lakehurst under command of Commander Norfleet. Three of the ribs are erected in the hangar and the keel will be completed within a few weeks.

The envelope will be 700 feet long and 125 feet in maximum diameter. It will be cigar-shaped. The cloth will be of staple back-spun cotton one inch in thickness. A specially devised varnish will make it sun and water-proof. Nineteen balloons which will furnish the lifting power are being built in Akron, O. These will have a total gas capacity of 2,700,000 cubic feet. It is not considered likely that helium (non-inflammable gas) can be used because of the immense quantity that would be necessary.

Originally the intention was to equip the ZR-1 with seven Liberty engines capable of developing a total of 2,100 horsepower, but navy experts are experimenting with a new type of motor, the specifications of which are not being made public, but which likely will be the type used.

When the ZR-1 is completed, experts say it will have power to cruise one-third of the distance around the world without having to descend. It will have a lifting power of 85 tons. The average speed, it is estimated, will be 50 miles an hour, its maximum speed 60 miles an hour.

Quarters for the officers and the men will be along the keelway extending almost the entire length of the ship. They will have a width of eight feet and a height of seven.

Chicago—bandit was killed, two others captured, and a detective seriously wounded in a gun fight.

Washington—President Harding nominated Samuel J. Davis, brother of Secretary Davis, to be postmaster at Moosehart, Illinois, national home for children of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Marion, Ill.—Attorney General Brandagee expressed satisfaction with cooperation promised by local officials in the case of investigation of the Herrin mine massacre.

St. Louis—The coal operators' association of the fifth and ninth districts of Illinois, accepted President Harding's plan for arbitration in the miners' strike.

Philadelphia—The Public Ledger announced that the expedition to climb Mt. Everest had been abandoned as the result of an avalanche which killed seven members of the party.

Middlesboro, Ky.—Four non-union miners at Hart Run, Tennessee, were attacked by a crowd of 100 miners, their hands tied, cowbells hung around their necks and they were then forced to run to the accompaniment of several hundred shots.

Fargo, N. D., July 15.—Some ice cream manufacturers of the state like to improve on the natural whiteness of ice cream by giving it a rich cream tint with artificial colors, according to E. O. Baird, of the regulatory division of the health department at the State Agricultural College here.

This is against the state laws, not because it is directly harmful but because it deceives.

The manufacturers of such cream, both in the state and those who ship it in from without have been warned and have promised immediate cessation of the practice of dyeing their ice cream.

BIBLE, WORLD'S BEST SELLER, SOLD EVEN FASTER—BY RADIO

Radio has been called upon to boom the sale of the world's best seller—the Bible.

A. Wesley Mell, secretary of the Pacific Agency of the American Bible society, tried this novel method and succeeded.

From his headquarters at San Francisco, Mell sent broadcast sales lectures. Touring the streets of the city was an automobile equipped with radio antenna and receiving set and loaded with Bibles.

At corners, the car would stop, then the radio loud speaker would begin to "talk." The novel stunt drew the crowd and the attendants with the radio auto went about selling the books.

With his Bible sales talks, Mell gave readings also.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS GETTING BUSY

Sends Questioners to Candidates of All the Parties, Answers Expected

(By the Associated Press)

Omaha, Neb., July 16.—The League of Women Voters has taken direct measures to ascertain the stand of senatorial and state office seekers for the information of its members at the statewide primary election in Nebraska July 18.

A comprehensive questionnaire has been prepared and submitted to all candidates asking their views on national, international and state affairs.

The questions to republican, democratic and progressive party senatorial candidates include:

"Do you favor a reduction of our army and navy?"

"Should our country participate in world affairs? As a part of the world or apart from it?"

"What should be the attitude of the United States toward: a. Mexico; b. Haiti; c. Russia; d. China?"

"Should our government collect the foreign debts of its citizens by force or otherwise, or should American investors in foreign property be subject to the laws and risks of the country in which the investment is made?"

"What is your interpretation of freedom of speech and the press as guaranteed by the federal constitution?"

"Will you support the present federal laws for the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment, with no weakening of the Volstead act, if you are elected?"

"Do you favor a referendum to the people for a declaration of war, except in case of invasion? Or do you favor declaration of war by a bare majority of congress, or by a two-thirds majority?"

"If elected, will you vote in favor of independent citizenship for married women?"

"Are you in favor of abolishing the primary system, and returning to the convention system of nominating candidates?"

A lengthy list of questions was submitted to candidates for state offices, dealing mostly with state affairs.

With a large number of candidates with a third active party in the campaign, and with pronounced interest shown in the election by both women's league and independent women voters, the feminine vote has received close attention from campaigners.

PAINT TESTS MADE AT A. C.

Fargo, N. D., July 15.—Another paint fence on which to test the wearing qualities of new pigments is being erected.

RUSSIA HAS LACK OF BABY CARRIAGES

Babies of the Peasant Type Die by Thousands in the Hot Summer

Petrograd, July 14.—The sunshine of summer makes evident Russia's lack of baby carriages. There are no trim nurses wheeling babies along the park paths, and only rarely is a perambulator seen at all.

Thousands of babies, out for an airing, are carried in their mothers' arms. Occasionally one sees semi-Oriental women, from the steppes and Turkestan with their infants strapped across their backs, like American Indian papooses.

Russian babies of the peasant type die by thousands in the hot summer and their tiny bodies know few of the cooling comforts of screened and shady porches.

The use of ice for keeping milk, is practically unknown.

But thousands of the hardy infants go wherever their mothers do; seem to sleep contentedly on their mothers' breasts in crowded box cars or under dripping eaves on rainy days when the parents lie like huddled bundles of rags in the shelter of buildings.

Charlotte Amalia, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, July 15.—Instructions in music is to be introduced into the public schools of the Virgin Islands under the supervision of Bandmaster Alton A. Adams, of the naval band.

Bandmaster Adams has returned to Saint Thomas after two months in the United States during which time he studied American methods of musical instruction in the public schools. From the knowledge gained he will adapt a course of instruction for the Virgin Islands schools. It is his plan to develop bands in the graded schools and an orchestra in the high schools, while all school children will be given vocal instruction.

Virgin Islanders have a natural talent for music, according to Bandmaster Adams. This has been recognized by the local chapter of the American Red Cross, which has been helpful in providing band and orchestra instruments for use in the schools.

Bandmaster Adams, a native of the Virgin Islands, is a recognized authority on band music and also a composer. Recently, while in Washington, he visited the Marine Band and on his arrival found Bandmaster Santeinheim rehearsing one of his compositions. Bandmaster Adams is undertaking his work as supervisor of music in the public schools under a special commission from Rear Admiral Kittelle, naval governor.

It is expected that women shortly will be appointed to foreign missions by the Czechoslovakia government.

GERMAN GIRLS WANT DUTCH EMPLOYMENT

Holland Looks Like the "Promised Land" for German Frauleins

Berlin, July 15.—Holland, formerly, made notorious during the war as a favorite exit from Germany for fugitive prisoners of war, is again coming into the limelight through the surreptitious crossing of young German girls anxious to get Dutch employment. It is estimated that Germany is already poorer by 20,000 hands, issued out of the Clerk's office of the 4th Judicial District Court, State of North Dakota, in and for the County of Burleigh, upon a judgment rendered on the 24th day of June, 1922, and in conformity with the terms of said judgment, to the City of Bismarck, North Dakota.

Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of an execution to me directed, I have caused my hands, issued out of the Clerk's office of the 4th Judicial District Court, State of North Dakota, in and for the County of Burleigh, upon a judgment rendered on the 24th day of June, 1922, and in conformity with the terms of said judgment, to the City of Bismarck, North Dakota.

And that I shall on Tuesday the 18th day of July A. D. 1922, at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Bismarck in said County of Burleigh, State of North Dakota, Western Sales Company, a corporation, John H. Mursu and Frank Lake, partners doing business as the Motor Inn Garage in and to the above described property, to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to Fifteen Hundred Eighty-four Dollars and Seventy-eight cents, together with all accruing costs of sale, and interest on the same from the 24th day of May 1922, at the rate of six per cent per annum, at Public Auction, to the highest bidder for cash.

Sheriff Burleigh County, N. D. NEWTON, DULLAN & YOUNG, Plaintiff's Attorneys. Dated at Bismarck, N. D., June 14th 1922.

NOTICE OF SALE

Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of a judgment and decree in foreclosure rendered and given by the District Court of the First Judicial District, in and for the County of Cass and State of North Dakota and entered and docketed in the office of the Clerk of said Court in and for said County on the 24th day of June 1922, in an action wherein Seth G. Wright, was Plaintiff and Anders Olof Skoglund (also known as A. Olof Skoglund) Helen Skoglund, his wife, Baldwin State Bank of Bismarck, N. D., a corporation, First State Bank of Regan, N. ## HAILSTORM CAUSE TOLD BY SPENCER

Level and Unbroken Stretches of Prairie Are the Indirect Cause

Fargo, N. D., July 15.—The level and unbroken stretches of prairie which form a great part of North Dakota's surface are the indirect cause of the hail storms which sometimes injure crops in the state, according to R. E. Spencer, U. S. Weather Observer at the Moorhead, Minn., station.

Hail is formed only in thunderstorms and the thunderstorms are caused by the uniform reflection of heat from large flat areas. The great levels of warm air, comparatively damp with the moisture of the growing vegetation, rise, are cooled, condense and form the overgrown cumulous clouds which are thunderheads. This happens over all kinds of country but the level stretches of plain make the phenomenon possible on the large scale that cause the storms.

It is the motion of the air about a horizontal axis, peculiar to these storms, that forms hail. The air is whirled near the earth, thousands of feet away from it and back toward the earth again. As this goes on, tiny rain drops, or particles of moisture freeze. As they go still higher they are covered with a coating of snow. The whirl brings them down to the lower levels where they are coated with water which is frozen as the force of the storm carries them up to the colder levels again. This process is repeated until finally they are too heavy to be carried by the storm, no matter how powerful and they fall. Hailstones sometimes show how they were made by alternate layers of ice and snow, which, however, are usually not very distinct. When they are definite enough to be counted, it is possible to tell how many rings the hailstone has taken on the giant arid Ferris wheel.

From Irregular Pellets.

Sometimes smaller stones freeze together thus forming irregular pellets.

There are also well authenticated cases of hail stones at least as large as a baseball, and presumably true record of even larger ones, according to authorities. These testify to terrific intensity of the storm that carried them.

There are unauthenticated cases of cattle having been killed by hail, authorities say and also records of more than a foot of hail having fallen at one time as the result of one thunderstorm.

female servants as a result of this practice.

With high wages and attractive working conditions, Holland has become something of a "promised land" for German frauleins qualified as housemaids or cooks. Twenty to twenty-five guilders a month are paid beginners, while the more efficient receive from 40 to 50. Such pay means from 2,000 to 5,000 marks monthly at the present rate of exchange, about ten times more than help of this kind received in Germany.

Amsterdam firms and dwellings have acquired about 5,000 of the emigrants and there are about 3,000 at the Hague. Most of them have been drawn from the Rhineland and Westphalia, where labor exchanges have been established at various places in co-operation with Dutch exchanges. Women's organizations in the western German provinces are actively opposing the exodus because of the shortage of help in households and on farms.

HAWKES GLASS

The glint and fire, the harmony in each graceful pattern by HAWKES, is not the work of the moment, but secured through a long process of evolution. In fact, Hawkes craftsmanship dates back to the beginning of the glass industry—always originating, always leading, until today every specimen of cut glass or engraved crystal of the Hawkes make is displayed with particular pride in the better jewelry shops and homes throughout the nation.

We have been selling this beautiful line of glass in Bismarck for over fifteen years, and feel that when one piece is bought it sure creates a demand for another.

JAMES BROWN BURIED TODAY

An Autopsy Was Performed on Body Yesterday

Duluth, Minn., July 15.—James E. Brown, manager of the Minnesota News Company, St. Paul, who died here of poisoning, was buried at 2 p. m. today. The funeral was in charge of the Masonic Temple.

An autopsy was performed on Brown's body yesterday and the stomach sent to the University of Minnesota.

Reports that Brown had virtually starved himself to death, were circulating today. That he had not eaten any food for three days prior to his death was the report heard by police. Officials here believe that Brown was a suicide and that St. Paul officials are withholding information about Brown's life.

MANDAN NEWS

Supt. Jensen Speaks
to School Officers

In the meeting of over 150 of the school officers from the 43 districts of Morton county here yesterday County Supt. H. K. Jensen stressed the importance of the enforcement of the compulsory attendance law. Dr. S. T. May, president of the Dickinson Normal discussed the importance of the drive to eliminate illiteracy in the state. E. J. Taylor, deputy state superintendent of public instruction spoke about the changes in the school laws. W. F. McClelland, superintendent of the state training school, gave a talk on the work which was being done in connection with his school.

A special moving picture film, prepared by the state agricultural college in conjunction with State Supt. Minnie J. Nielson, visualizing for the audience the changes necessary in rural schools.

Haw Sees Bumper
Crop This Year

John W. Haw, county agent leader, who has just returned from a trip through Morton, Stark, and Dunn counties, reported that everything indicated a "smashing big crop" this year. Things look like they did in 1915 when he had one of the biggest crops in the history of the Slope region.

"I stood in durum wheat fields on the experiment farm at Mandan where the tops of the wheat heads came up to my eyes and marquis wheat was breast high," said Mr. Haw.

"The crops are uniformly even and look to be as good on one field as another, no matter whether the grain was put in well or was indifferently farmed. I have seldom seen such a splendid looking crop at this stage of its development. It looks to me as though some of those fields will go 40 bushels to the acre. While there does not appear to be any rust in the wheat of the Slope region, it does appear in the valley."

A big out-door picnic dinner will be given at the Heart River Lutheran church Sunday morning by the farmers of the vicinity for the people of Mandan and the surrounding country. Members of the Mandan Commercial club, the Town Criers, and Rotary club members were invited to attend by John Christensen. Since Mandan did not turn out for the Plymouth Rock Pilgrimage a short time ago, it was urged that they appear at this picnic.

Vernon Dunbar, James Hanley and Melvin Williams returned Thursday from Washington where they have been employed in the fruit orchards for the past six weeks. Rodney Love is on his way home also, but stopped off for a visit with his father at Dickinson.

Colin Cary, James Hanley, William Stutman and Clyde Voigt will leave Monday for Fort Snelling where they will enter the Citizens Training Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cook and daughter, Miss Cecile de Beuch were city visitors here yesterday.

Atty. P. D. Norton left yesterday for Hettinger where he was called on business.

The Luther League will hold a food sale at the City Drug store tomorrow, beginning at 11 o'clock.

Atty. Torger Sinnness of Devils Lake, former state chairman of the Republican campaign committee, was a caller here yesterday. Mr. Sinnness was called to Carson on legal business.

Joseph and Stanislaus Vogel, farmers of the St. Vincent Sweet-Briar district, were business visitors here yesterday.

Miss Bernice Rosen left yesterday for Hebron where she will visit for a few days with her aunt, Mrs. S. P. Reigler.

John Kleinschmidt of Dubuque, Ia., who was a former resident of Mandan is spending a few weeks visiting here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reko, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reko, and Mrs. L. Reko of Oakes are spending the week here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Reko and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reko.

Miss Cecelia Lutz, who has been employed in Livingston, Mont., for the past year is visiting here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Nichols. Miss Lutz was milliner at the Boston Cash store when she lived in Mandan. After a short visit here she will continue on her way to Oshkosh, Wis.

Miss Helen Haskins of Los Angeles arrived here yesterday for a visit with friends for several weeks.

Refuses Increase

Miss Agnes McPhail, only woman member of Canadian Parliament, has returned to the minister of finance the sum of $1500. Advocate of economy, she had voted against increase in parliamentary salaries from $2500 to $4000.

National Committee Urges Organizers Undertake Drive

must have 50,000 members in North Dakota and that the fee must be low enough to make this possible.

A. C. Townley, outlining the two plans, said there was a difference of opinion between the national executive committee and the league state committee but denied that there was any hostility in the attitude of each of them. He asserted that both were willing to abide by the decision of the convention.

Sees Gains in Congress

Explaining his own work Townley said that he had undertaken the national organization work, that he would organize for the league in the southern states in the winter months and in the northern states in the summer months. He declared that the organizers had been "imposed" in Minnesota for organization work, that Minnesota had accepted the national committee's plan and that organizers could be put in North Dakota, 150 if necessary, to get the membership. He urged the necessity of trained men for organization work.

It was agreed that delegate should discuss the plans and that later Townley, Lemke, Terhorst and Church should argue for their respective plans and the delegate would decide.

During the progress of the convention there was an outcropping of the feeling of hostility, which rose up when the league adopted its plan of autonomy for North Dakota, when some members objected to the so-called autonomy of the national executive committee. These outbursts were met by other league workers who emphatically declared that there was no such principle involved.

Delegate J. V. D. Sundburg of Edgemoor county was one of those men who saw in the situation the question of whether or not the league would surrender their separate state organization which he said "we fought for a long time." He declared that the interests of North Dakota were paramount with the league and that North Dakota league workers should not bear the burden of the league in other states.

In a statement previously A. C. Townley had said that the greatest gains the league would make on the future was in the national congress and that the organization work of the league on a national basis was therefore doubly important.

Aaker Motion Lost

H. H. Aaker of Grand Forks, candidate for Secretary of State in the primary, took the floor and declared that it appeared to him that the question was whether or not the league would give up the plan adopted at the state convention by which it would govern itself in North Dakota as a separate unit. Mr. Aaker said he could see no wisdom in prolonging the debate and urged a vote on the subject.

Mrs. C. A. Fisher of Valley City chairman of the Women's Nonpartisan Clubs, in a pacific speech which brought cheers for her, declared that she had no question of difference between the national and state organization, but as to the best plan of organizing effectively, and urged that discussion should continue. The Aaker motion was lost.

Necessity of Organization

During the discussion it became evident that many Nonpartisans had come to the conclusion that a political organization was much the same as a successful business organization—it must have a well-defined plan, a responsible head, individual responsibility all along the line and that it must have money with which to function.

A. H. Vogel of Coleharbor told the delegates that wherever the league had succeeded in the primary election tion it would be found that the success was due to one man taking the responsibility for organizing the county.

The idea was expressed by several speakers:

1. Cooperation between voluntary county committee and the state committee in detailed organization work was a failure.

2. A paid organizer can get more memberships than a man working among his neighbors and volunteering his services.

3. The old system of having a paid county manager responsible for the county was the best method of getting men to the polls.

Why Elections Were Lost

The question as to why the league lost the recall and primary election was mentioned. Among the answers given were these:

William Lemke said it was because 28,000 league workers did not vote in the recall and many did not vote in the primary election.

W. J. Church said that there were 50,000 less votes cast for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor in the primary than in the recall.

A delegate from another county said that many farmers remained at home because they had distrust of the business management of the league.

Another, taking the same vein, said the accommodation notes were a contributing factor—that promises with regard to reimbursing men had not been kept.

All speakers were agreed that thousands of Nonpartisans had not gone to the polls. All were inclined to accept responsibility for this condition upon themselves as part of the league and upon the management of the league. None were inclined to credit the situation to loss in faith in the principles of the league, and most of them were enthusiastic in declaring their movement must go on.

No candidate for office in the fall had been suggested in an official way, and few names were mentioned even informally in the hotel lobbies.

PUSH DOCKS TO CAPACITY

No Coal, Freighters Engaged in Ore Business Alone

Duluth, Minn., July 15.—The shortage of coal which has caused some delay in shipping and which threatens to precipitate a wholesale tying up of ships on the Great Lakes has not interfered with movement of ore declared today. There is still some coal available for shipping at the head of the lakes docks, but only a limited amount is allowed, making it necessary for vessels to depend on stocks at lower lake docks for fuel for the trip up the lakes.

There are no coal cargoes coming up from the lower lakes and the freighters are engaged in the ore business alone, vessel men said. This sends the ships around quicker and the docks are being pushed to capacity to accommodate the ore carriages. Ordinarily when freighters bring coal cargoes up the lakes and return with ore, the round trip takes from ten to fifteen days, but running light on the up trip the steamers make it in about seven days.

"STONE AGE" MURDER Baffles

(By the Associated Press)

Los Angeles, July 15.—Where was Mrs. Alberta Meadows on the night before she was the victim of what has become known locally as the "stone age murder" because it was accomplished with a hammer and rock? And where the same night was A. L. Phillips, husband of the woman accused of the crime. These were subjects of inquiry today, according to announcement by deputy sheriffs working on the case?

The coroner announced the inquest over Mrs. Meadows' body would be held Monday.

Phillips has been detained as a material witness.

W. L. Traeger, sheriff, now in Tucson, is expecting to bring Mrs. Phillips back with him. Phillips is not under arrest but deputy sheriffs have been detailed to remain with him constantly.

PROCLAIMS INNOCENCE

Tucson, Ariz., July 15.—Still refusing to admit that she is Mrs. Clara Phillips, wanted in Los Angeles for the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, the woman held here under the name of McGuyer today issued a signed statement proclaiming her innocence of the brutal hammer murder.

TO USE MOTOR TRUCKS

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, July 15.—Virtual abandonment of an early settlement of the railroad strike following the failure of last night's conference, railroad executives today prepared to make a determined effort to reopen shops with non-union employees, according to a high official of the United States railroad labor board.

This official who declined to be quoted directly, said peace moves would be suspended for the present, as the carriers and strikers were unable to find any common ground for starting negotiations when Chair-

Additional Markets

UNDERTONE OF CASH WHEAT WAS EASIER

Batch of the Good Wheat Was Taken Care of Early at Firm Premiums

(By the Associated Press)

Minneapolis, July 15.—There was very little news to trade on today and wheat futures held within a moderate range, with fluctuations rather erratic. Closing values were strong and higher.

Undertone of the cash wheat was easier. Receipts were moderate but the slackening of flour trade kept some of the smaller mills out of the market and altogether there was a decided slackening of competition. As a result of more disinclination among buyers the edge was off the demand for other than good milling quality and prices declined from 2 to 5 cents in the lower grades and softer kinds. Bulk of the good wheat was taken care of early at firm premiums. There was no improvement in the demand for durum wheat. Offerings were moderate and absorbed at about the same comparative prices.

Winter wheat demand was fair to good.

Corn was in strong shipping demand with western buyers in the market for choice stuff. Oats were about the same. Shipments wanted heavy weight at good premiums and elevators sought ordinary lots.

Rye was strong on account of light offerings. Barley prices were easier. Flax demand was steady and the market unsettled compared with 1921.

Wheat receipts 109 cars compared with 147 cars a year ago. Cash No. 1 northern $1.46½; July $1.40½; September $1.31½; December $1.19½. Corn No. 2 yellow 58¢ @ 59¢; oats No. 3 white 32½¢ @ 33½¢; barley 49¢ @ 50¢.

Rye No. 2, 78¢ @ 80¢. Flax No. 1, $2.61 @ $2.55.

PLAN TO PUT NON-UNION MEN IN ALL SHOPS

the situation following the departure of state troops.

Kansas rail centers generally were reported quiet. Governor Allen announced that should any more strikes develop or additional strike notices be posted, arrests would follow.

Samuel Gompers at Washington declared the American Federation of Labor stands squarely behind the striking railway shopmen.

Congress to Intervene

Congressman Carl Riddick at Livingston, Mont., declared to non-union men, congress will ultimately intervene in the rail strike.

"When the strike starts to tie up traffic congress will be forced to intervene," he asserted.

"Big Four" brotherhood members at Fort Smith, Ark., went on record favoring a recommendation to the grand lodge officials that if speedy settlement was not made by the railroad with the six striking shop crafts, the transportation of the country will be tied up from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Weeks increased railroad troubles. Jake Herman, an expressman, was killed and seven passengers were injured when a Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe passenger train was wrecked near Wharton, Texas. Spreading rails are believed to have caused the wreck.

A fireman was killed and five other trainmen were injured when two freight trains on the St. Louis San Francisco system crashed here on near Joplin, Mo., confused orders, rail officials declared were responsible.

Five passengers and the baggage master were injured in a wreck near Saluda, North Carolina, when a runaway "helper" locomotive, used on the Saluda mountain climb, ran head-on into a passenger train.

TO USE MOTOR TRUCKS

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, July 15.—Virtual abandonment of an early settlement of the railroad strike following the failure of last night's conference, railroad executives today prepared to make a determined effort to reopen shops with non-union employees, according to a high official of the United States railroad labor board.

This official who declined to be quoted directly, said peace moves would be suspended for the present, as the carriers and strikers were unable to find any common ground for starting negotiations when Chair-

EDITH MAE PATTERSON, A KANSAS SCHOOL TEACHER, AND THE "MONA LISA SMILE" THAT WON HER 3,500 PROPOSALS.

By NEA Service.

Pine Bluff, Ark., July 15.—Three thousand five hundred proposals of marriage!

Edith Mae Patterson, young "schoolmarm" here, has received that many.

And has rejected every one of them.

Some of them she hasn't even read. Eight months ago Miss Patterson's knowledge, entered the school teacher's photograph in a state beauty contest.

A little later along came a check for $1,000.—Miss Patterson had won first prize. Immediately her fame as "the girl with the Mona Lisa smile" man Ben Hooper sought to get them together yesterday.

The stumbling block in the path of settlement, it was said, at the railroad board will be the union's demand for restoration of seniority and other privileges to the strikers.

The roads indicated to Chairman Hooper that the men who have stuck by their employers and the new employees enlisted will be protected in the seniority they have thereby attained.

CUMMINS TALKS

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, July 15.—The first effort of congress, Senator Cummins said, probably would be to amend the law so as to guarantee a fair living wage to railroad workers. Later, but probably not during the present strike, he said, an effort would be made to provide penalties for violation of orders of the railway labor board.

DAIRYING IS PROFITABLE

Last week we referred to the fact that farmers, just like all manufacturers, have to address themselves to the problem of "finishing" their products, and we pointed out that DAIRYING is the most profitable kind of farming the world knows anything about and lends itself easily to the job of being "finished" right on the farm.

Let us tell you what happened in Todd County, a small county of 28 townships in central Minnesota.

Up to 1900 the county was almost exclusively a grain raising county. Farmers were not prosperous. Crops were not certain because they were at the mercy of the elements and the farmer has no control over the elements. The best farm in the county could have been bought for from fifty to sixty dollars per acre. There were three banks in the entire county and their total deposits were $184,660.00. The county had been farmed for more than forty years. It was not a new or a frontier county. Its failure to prosper was due to the fact that agriculture was on the wrong basis—the farmers were trying to produce and sell "raw material" and, like the producers of raw material generally, they were not getting anywhere.

In 1900 the change to dairying began. Co-operative creameries were organized. Herds were improved along dairy lines and gradually the production of butterfat became the chief activity of the farmer.

By 1921 there was hardly a grain elevator in the county. They had given way to the creameries. There were fourteen wholly within the county and eight more on the border line. Bank statements published at the end of 1921 showed deposits of more than six million dollars. The county is wholly agricultural and the greater part of these deposits belonged to the farmers. A jump in savings from $184,000.00 to more than $6,000,000.00 in twenty-one years tells the story of what dairying did for the farmers of Todd County, Minnesota.

What dairying did for the farmers of Todd County, it can do for the farmers of this county. Conditions here are substantially the same. It is not harder to start here than it was to start there. Let's investigate this dairy business.

AX VICTIM MAY RECOVER

Police Hopeful Aged Woman
Will Regain Consciousness

(By the Associated Press)

Austin, Minn., July 15.—With the report of physicians and surgeons today that the condition of Mrs. John Wagner, 69 years old, who was attacked by an unidentified assailant with an ax in her home at Grand Meadow, some time Wednesday night, shows slight improvement, police are hopeful that the aged woman will regain consciousness and disclose some information relative to her assailant. Her husband was killed by the same assailant apparently with the same instrument.

August Detloff, a son-in-law of the aged pair, residing in Austin, who was held by police for questioning, was still in custody today.

The inquest which is held at Grand Meadow, according to reports late today did not uncover any motive or pertinent facts regarding the crime except that the ax used by the murderer belonged to the slain man. First reports were that the ax did not belong to him.

Finger print experts are expected today to help solve the mystery.

BE COMFORTABLE
Edison, the inventor, says the chief reason he can work 18 hours a day without getting "run-down" is because he keeps his body healthy by never wearing tight-fitting clothes.
Edison wears baggy suits and loose collars. He never wears tight shoes, a belt or anything that would interfere with the circulation of blood through his arteries.
In other words, he doesn't saw cross-grain on nature. Maybe nature intended the human animal to wear clothes, maybe not. Anyway, she certainly never intended us to wear garments that fit like the casing of a sausage.

In wintertime, on streets of cities that have snow and zero weather, you see flappers wearing silk stockings and shirt waists with V-necks cut so low they expose the throat to the cold—wearing a high starched collar and a woolen muffler around his neck, marvels that the flimsily-dressed flappers fail to die of pneumonia.

The reason is simple: The flapper dresses loosely, allowing her blood to circulate freely enough, to keep her warm.
Her grandmother, in girlhood, had to bundle up like an Arctic explorer to keep from catching cold, largely because she cramped her blood circulation and other bodily functions by lacing herself into wasp-waist corsets.

Men, too are slowly getting wiser—discarding tight starched choker-collars, painful shoes and plugs hats that fit the head like iron hoops.
Hygienists believe American women will be health-wise enough to keep their present comfortable way of dressing. Also they are campaigning to drive some of the same common sense into men.

Men, say the hygienists, should copy the women and adopt clothing that ventilates the body. This is especially advisable in summertime, to permit quick evaporation of poisonous perspiration.
The average person is haunted by a fear of "taking cold."

How about the dangers of "taking heat?"
You have noticed, in the movies, that the savages dress loosely, so the air gets easily to all parts of their skin. That probably is the chief reason they are as hard as nails—and as healthy as young wildcats.

JAIL-HOUSE
Here's a man, 90 years old, who has been a jailer since 1848. He is E. Newell Hunting, superintendent of brown-making in the state prison at Charleston, Mass.

For 74 years this man has watched convict come and go. He has studied them, studied prisoners, watched prison reform, probably knows more about prisons and prisoners than any living man.

And this is his strongest impression: "Criminals are less of the stuff that makes men than they did in the old days. Most of them now are weak and snip-snapper, practically all of them lacking pride, upon which the reformation of any man depends."

Hunting is convinced that the country is going to the dogs. He bases his belief on the modern type of criminal.

DETECTIVES
A detective's life is dull and monotonous, says William J. Flynn, ex-head of the Secret Service.

Flynn laughs at the notion that "detectives are super-men." He tells Marion Storm, New York writer: "If you want some reading that will put you gently to sleep, try a detective's record of a sensational case just as he keeps it: Interviewed three shoe clerks; no result. Analyst reported poison potion to be talcum and water."

Despite all this, a big detective has more thrills in a year than the average person in a lifetime. Like the rest of us, they get "fed up" bored. Everything is relative. A candy store clerk soon hates the sight of chocolate.

INDIANS
The oldest inhabitants of America—and they haven't a newspaper of their own. But the Indians of the Pacific Northwest have decided to remedy that. They will begin "The Arrow," first national publication devoted to interests of the Red Men.

Hugh Howell, bond salesman, who will become the editor, hopes the new newspaper will get the Indian a square deal.
The modern Indian is more the victim of thoughtlessness than intentional wrong by Americans. All he needs is publicity. Late in the day, but better late than never, Arrow, fly true to your mark!

MASTER-CRIMINAL
Most remarkable criminal of history was Hugo Breitwischer of Austria. He planned his career from youth. Went to college, studied engineering, to learn about acids and metals to be used in breaking into vaults and safes.

Then, to learn what to avoid, he took a post-graduate course under Dr. Hans Gross, master-criminologist of the University of Graz.
Hugo was a Robin Hood, divided his plunder with the poor. For years he gave the Vienna detectives thrill upon thrill. Finally he retired to a small town, and was caught because he was so exceedingly careful not to attract attention that he roused a detective's suspicions. "Give them enough rope and they hang themselves."

BABEL
Hugh Howell, who will edit the new newspaper devoted to interests of the Indians, says: "Under old conditions, a concerted action by Indians was impossible. There were tribal differences, to begin with. Then, there were scores of Indian languages, making communication difficult. Now things are different. The Indian schools have educated all of the younger generations in English."

From the red Americans, white Americans can learn the value of united action and a common tongue. Induce the new arrival to learn our language and "join the gang."

BUILDING
If planning a house, here is something that will help you.
The Copper and Brass Research Association estimates that the "building dollar" is spent like this: Masonry 36 cents, carpentry 29, heating about 8, painting about 7, electrical work 6, plumbing 6, roofing 3, hardware 1, sheet metal work about 4 cents.

The figures, of course, vary for different types of dwellings. They have the universal value, though, of reminding builders not to forget to "figure on" the incidentals.

THE ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL TABLET
The name and fame of one man has enhanced, in some respects, the knowledge of this state, with millions of people of the country, if not of the world. The fact that Theodore Roosevelt lived a portion of his early life in North Dakota when engaged in the business of ranching and the raising of cattle, has closely linked the state of North Dakota with the life of this internationally renowned American.

The period of Roosevelt's life in this state was a critical one for him. With a splendid educational start, unrivaled mental abilities and capacity for absorbing knowledge, he needed the physical strength to equal his mental equipment. This he got in North Dakota, during the years he lived in the open, and became acquainted with the primitive life of the western rancher. The pure air of North Dakota, the wholesome exercises of ranch life, the quiet surroundings conducive to reading, study and to contemplation of man's place in nature, all gave to Roosevelt a most valuable equipment, at a critical period of his life. In his after successes he has always acknowledged credit to the beneficial results of his life in North Dakota.

It is therefore more than appropriate, it is especially fitting that the newspaper men of the nation, on their annual pilgrimage, stopped at the little wayside hamlet of Modora, where Roosevelt made headquarters many years ago, and placed a tablet "to stand by the side of the road while the races of men go by."

This tablet, and the purpose of the same has a significant meaning, as wide and as deep as the life work, and the comprehensive knowledge of mankind, so characteristic of Roosevelt himself. The tablet will have its place in an archway which will span the roadway over which the races of men will pass on their entrance to the real west in one direction, and their approach to the older civilization in the other direction.

Every one familiar with his enormous attainments of accurate knowledge; with his American spirit of loyalty to this country; his deeds as a citizen and public official; and with his fame as a citizen of the world, will feel gratified at the erection of the Roosevelt memorial tablet and arch, spanning the roadway in North Dakota, in the old home community of Theodore Roosevelt.

PALE BRITANNIA
While a French girl and an American woman were fighting for the British championship in tennis, last Saturday, what were English spectators inclined to melancholy thinking about? They might be pardoned for feeling that the athletic scene was departing from the British Isles. On the same day an American won the Diamond Skulls at Henley. A month before three American golfers were struggling with each other for first place in the British Open. Last year the men's tennis championship was taken away from England and the polo championship was lost.

Supremacy in cricket might still be claimed for the empire, though not for England, since the Australians won every match from the all-England eleven at the last encounter.
However, if the British athletic shepherds have any philosophy left in them, they will not be wholly given over to despondency. They will comfort themselves by reflecting that it is a case of being invaded by the very best that foreign countries can produce, and that bright particular stars in any given sport are certain now and then to rise beyond the English horizon. A Langfen, a Tilden, a Hagen, a Walter Hoover, is born, not a native effort in athletics may soon come again. Moreover, the passing of one championship cup after another may simply drive the British back to the last fortress of national complacency, and lead them to reassert that win or lose, they have more all-the-year-around athletics than any other nation, and that, out-of-door sports are "in widest commonality spread" in England. Yet it cannot be denied that Britannia is looking rather pale after the athletic storms that have lately passed over her, and is in need of any consoling tonic to which she can lay her hand.—New York Times.

OPEN SHIP
There is something new in New York in the way of sights, thrills and entertainment. The big steamship companies have taken to holding open house—or perhaps it had better be called "open ship"—the day before sailing. The public is admitted with little or no formality. Visitors are allowed to go all over the finest ocean liners afloat, seeing their new wrinkles, lounging in their luxurious cabins and smoking rooms, promenading their decks and dancing in their ballrooms. Some of them give real dances. Thousands take advantage of this novel form of dissipation. It is a rare chance, especially for an inland visitor, to get a couple of hours of sea voyage without cost and without any danger of shipwreck or seasickness.

This is not pure philanthropy, by any means. The steamship people are doubtless moved by scarcity of trade. The liners have been sailing with cabins half filled, in spite of the fact that a "rush to Europe" is in the air. It is, nevertheless, a fine thing, adding to the interest and pleasure which outlanders find in the metropolis; and no doubt it will bring a business reward.—Butte Post.

MINOT'S CELEBRATION
Minot is planning a two-day celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the settlement of northwestern North Dakota.

In 1882 the first white settlers arrived in the region of which Minot is now the center.
In the 40 years that have elapsed since then, that region has had many reverses, but it is just beginning to find itself. It is on the right track at last and headed in the right direction, toward dairying and diversified farming.

"Progress" will be the theme of a pageant that will be staged during the celebration. One of the "tomb-raisons" used to illustrate progress will be the old prairie schooner and the antiquated farm machinery placed beside the modern automobile and tractor and modern farm equipment.
Less spectacular but more substantial progress might be illustrated by a comparison of the meat ranch and the modern dairy farm.
The celebration will be held July 21 and 22 and North Dakotans who plan to pay Minot a call on those days will undoubtedly be enlightened. If present crop prospects in that district materialize, Minot and all of its trade territory will have something to celebrate. That's all they need.—Fargo Forum.

A COLLEGE EDUCATION BY RADIO
The University of California has followed the example of other institutions of higher learning in arranging to deliver lectures on educational topics through the radio telephone. It has been granted a broadcasting license and within a few months will be sending talks on various subjects taught at the university through the ether.

A fine spirit of public service is shown in this enterprise. It suggests that the time may soon come when it will be possible to obtain what virtually will be a complete college education through wireless.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts
Nancy and Nick overheard Mrs. Robin talking to Mrs. Frog down by the pond.
Mrs. Robin was saying: "Oh, don't be disappointed about your children, Mrs. Frog. Mine were born without a single feather. I had as door-knobs, my dear! But I went to Dr. Snuffles and he gave me some drops and in three weeks my children were beautiful."
"Oh," said Mrs. Frog eagerly, "do you think it would do my pollywogs any good, Mrs. Robin? Really, I'm almost ashamed of them. They haven't a leg to stand on and, mind you, they've actually got tails like lizards."

UNUSUAL FOLK
By NEA Service
Portland, Ore., July 15.—Stephen Carver, of this city, is the man-power for an entire railroad. Among the jobs he holds are president, general superintendent, chief of operations, director of maintenance of way, ticket and station agent at several stations, construction foreman, train dispatcher, engineer and train crew, section boss and crew.

The Portland and Oregon City railroad had it 85 per cent completed before the war. Then lack of funds halted work. So, to preserve his franchise until times get better, Carver runs a home-made auto bus on a regular daily train schedule along the tracks, with Carver as engineer and crew. This in addition to all his other jobs with the railroad.

TODAY'S WORD
Today's word is PERPETUATE. It's pronounced per-pet-u-ate, the first a as in fern, the second e short, the u as in unite, and the l one. Accent is on the second syllable. It means to cause to endure, or to be continued, indefinitely.
It comes from the Latin perpetuus, perpetuare, meaning to perpetuate.
It's used like this: Memorial Day exercises tend to perpetuate memories of the nation's heroes.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 15.—Mrs. Emma Tufts of Northwood was awarded a verdict of $750 against the First National bank of Northwood by a jury in district court here.

She sued for $1,700, claimed due her on a deposit in the bank. The bank's contention was that this deposit had been tampered with by Mrs. Tufts's husband who had been an employee of the bank but left suddenly several months ago.

"Whenever you look at that moon over in that dark wilderness, I wish you would please think of your little cousin—will you?"

"You don't know how often our thoughts will cross, and that will be a great comfort to me. Sometimes I am afraid. There is a wild strain on my mother's side, and it is in me—I am afraid I may sometimes do something very foolish, and it won't be me at all. It will be somebody that died long ago." She put both her hands over both his and held them tight.

"I never, never distrusted you. I trust you more than anybody else in the whole world except my father, and he might be away or—she gave a little sob—"he might get killed. I want you to make me a promise."

"Anything," said the boy huskily. "I want you to promise me that, no matter when, no matter where you are, if I need you and send for you, you will come." And Indian-like he put his forehead on both her little hands.

"Thank you. I must go now," he said, and he slipped out his hand, and awkwardly put out his hand.

"Kiss me good-bye." She put her arm about his neck, and for the first time in his life the boy's lips met a woman's. For a moment she put her face against his and at his car was a whisper.

"Good-bye, Erskine!" And she was gone—swiftly—leaving the boy in a dazed world of falling stars through which a white light leaped to heights his soul had never dreamed.

XVII.
With the head of Clark's column of stalwart backwoodsmen went Dave Yandell and Erskine Dale.

During the months Kashaskie fell, then Vincennes passed into the hands of the Americans and there came one morning when Erskine went forth at dawn, and his coming into the Shawnee camp was like the coming of a king. Early Morn greeted him with glowing eyes, his foster-mother brought him food, looking proudly upon him, and old Kahtoo harangued him, and his braves around the council-pole.

"My son spoke words of truth," he proclaimed sonorously. "He warned us against the king over the waters and told us to make friends with the Americans. My son is the true prophet. Bring out the false one and Crooked Lightning and Black Wolf, whose life my son saved shall do the two were enemies. My son shall do with them as he pleases."

Many young braves sprang willingly forward and the three were hailed from Erskine.

Erskine rose and fixed his eyes steadily on the cowering prophet: "He shall go forth from the village and shall never return. He is a false prophet and he must go." He turned to Crooked Lightning: "Crooked Lightning shall go or the door of his tent, she followed him about the village and bore herself openly as his slave.

At last old Kahtoo, who would not give up his great hope, plead with him to marry her, and while he was talking the girl stood at the door of the tent and interrupted them. Her mother's eyes were growing dim, she said. Her mother wanted to talk with White Arrow and look upon his face before her sight should altogether pass.
Nor could Erskine know that the white woman wanted to look into the eyes of the man she hoped would become her daughter's husband, but Kahtoo did, and he bade Erskine go. Erskine rose and went to the white woman's tent. She sat just inside the opening, with a blanket across the lower half of her face. She plied him with questions, and listened eagerly to his every word, and drew from him every detail of his life as far back as he could remember.
Poor soul, it was the first opportunity for many years that she had to talk with any white person who had been in the Eastern world, and freely and frankly he held nothing back.
When in turn he questioned her, she told little, and his own native delicacy made him understand. She, too, had been captured with a son who would have been about Erskine's age, but her boy and her husband had been killed. She had been made a slave and—now she drew the blanket across her eyes—after the birth of her daughter she felt she could never go back to her own people.
She loved her daughter; she would not subject her or herself to humiliation among the whites, and, anyhow, there was no one to whom she could go. Her concern was with her daughter—what would become of her? Many a young brave, beside Black Wolf, had put his heart eyes, too, never seemed to leave him. She brought him food, she sat at stay, as he pleases. Black Wolf shall stay, for the tribe will need him as a hunter and a warrior against the English foes of the Long Knives.

The braves grunted approval. Black Wolf and Crooked Lightning averted their faces and the prophet shambled uneasily away.
Again old Kahtoo proclaimed sonorously, "It is well!" and went back to his tent. There he sank wearily in a buffalo-skin and plead with the boy to stay with them as chief in his stead. He was very old, and now that peace was made he was willing to die. If Erskine would but give his promise, he would never rise again from where he lay.
Erskine shook his head and the old man sorrowfully turned his face on at the village.
And yet Erskine lingered on and on at the village.
Of the white woman he had learned little other than that she had been bought from another tribe and adopted by old Kahtoo; but it was plain that since the threatened burning of her she had been held in high respect by the whole tribe. He had never talked with her, but he never moved about the camp that he did not feel her eyes upon him. And Early Morn's big soft eyes, too, never seemed to leave him. Editor The Tribune:
At the dedicatory exercises of the tablet or pedestal of what is destined to be the foundation of a massive monument to be erected in honor of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, which took place July 12, 1922, at Modora, N. D. in the presence of members of the National Editorial Association, the response to the welcome of Gov. R. A. Nestor was made by J. R. Brimcomb of Boston, (an editor) who recalled one of Col. Roosevelt's close friends living in Modora, at that time—an editor—Arthur T. Packard of the "Bad Lands Cowboy." Mr. Packard was reporter for the Bismarck Daily Tribune in 1882. It was in the "Bad Lands Cowboy" that James W. Foley's first verses were printed. Mr. Foley later came to the Tribune and was city editor many years, while making himself famous in the world of literature.

Mrs. Linton Tells How Helpful Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is at This Period
Denver, Colorado.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for several years and I cannot tell you the good it has done me. It is good for young and old and I always keep a bottle of it in the house, for I am at that time of life when it calls for Lydia E. Pinkham's help. My husband saw your ad. in the papers and said 'You have taken everything you can think of, now I want you to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So I let him get it, and I soon felt better and he told me 'I want you to take about six bottles.' So I did and I keep house and do all my own work and work out by the day and feel fine now. I don't know of any other Vegetable Compound, so I want to say of my friends thought I would not get well."—Mrs. R. J. LINTON, 1850 West 83d Avenue, Denver, Colorado.

After reading letters like the above, and we are constantly publishing them, why should any woman hesitate to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she is in need of help? It brings relief where other medicines fail.

Enjoy Picnic Supper, Music, and Dancing

A picnic supper was given by Mrs. Joe Staley in honor of her daughter, Miss Esther, and her guests, Misses Helen Kennelly, Hazel Moren, Marian Day, Helen McGrath, and Mildred Perkins, yesterday evening at Wildwood. The young women who were delegates to the Chi Omega convention held at Salt Lake City, Utah, recently, are visiting with Miss Staley for a short time before continuing on their way to their respective homes.

When the storm came up the party of picnickers which included about 15 young people, repaired to the home of Mrs. Robert Orr of Avenue A. Here they were entertained with music by some of the young women who have been studying music at college. Afterwards they enjoyed dancing at the home of Mrs. N. L. Call of Avenue A East.

Bank Officials and Employees Hold Picnic

A picnic was given by the officials and employees of the Bank of North Dakota in honor of Misses Leola Hanson and Afta Wick, both of whom will be leaving in the near future for their respective homes, Thursday evening at Wildwood.

Miss Hanson who is secretary to C. R. Greene, manager of the bank, will leave for her home at Fargo, Minn., in a short time. Miss Wick will soon go to her home in Canada.

There were 40 people who enjoyed the jolly picnic supper, which was followed by dancing at the pavilion.

Mrs. Finney Gives Bridge Party

Mrs. Burt Finney entertained with a bridge party in honor of Mrs. C. P. Warram of Fargo, who is a guest at the home of her father, Gen. E. A. Williams, and Miss Agnes V. Orr yesterday afternoon at her home on 220 Anderson Ave. There were four tables of bridge. Mrs. B. F. Tillotson won the prize for high score. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the end of a delightful afternoon.

Give Surprise Shower for Departing Bride

A surprise party and miscellaneous shower was given for Mrs. Harry Stasek, formerly Miss Elsie Smith at the home of Miss Alfhild Alfson, 804 Seventh St., at 9 o'clock Thursday evening.

The Alfson home was decorated with a profusion of garden flowers and twining ivy. Mrs. W. J. Targart delighted her friends with two sentimental songs, "O Promise Me" and "Love You Truly." At 10:30 o'clock a cupid messenger appeared bearing a huge pink and white bouquet containing gifts of linen, silver, chinaware, and other useful articles for housekeeping as remembrances from Mrs. Stasek's 20 friends who were assembled to bid her farewell.

A feature of the evening was the supplying of missing details for "A Love Story in Flowers," a complete history of the bride's romance. A train letter was also written and presented to Mrs. Stasek by each of the guests last night. These were not to be opened and read until she was on her way to her future home at Oakes this morning.

Yeomen Prepare for Their Annual Picnic

Arrangements are being made for the Yeomen's Annual picnic which will be held Sunday, July 23. A basket luncheon is planned. Transportation will be arranged by a committee in charge of that part. TO VISIT DAUGHTER. Mrs. Peter Aller and daughter Miss Marian, left this morning for Minneapolis, Minn., where they will visit with Mrs. Aller's daughter, Mrs. George Jelenits, for a couple of weeks.

TO OLD HOME. Mrs. Jessie M. Lieben will leave tomorrow for Osgo, Ia., where she will visit with friends and relatives for about three weeks. Osgo is Mrs. Lieben's old home.

STANDARD BEARERS MEET. The Standard Bearers will meet this evening at the home of Miss Nora McGettigan of 827 Sixth St. at 8 o'clock this evening. Miss Helen Little will assist the hostess in entertaining.

FOOD SALE. A food sale was held this afternoon by members of the Women's Community Council at Perry's Furniture store.

John Rassiechuck of Beldfeld was a city caller here today.

Conceal Your Bad Traits, Emphasize Good Ones—Right Hat Does It

BY MARIAN HALE.

Your head tells everything, says the phrenologist.

Well, perhaps it might if we let it. But we don't—we have milliners. And the right hat will interpret any message your bumps and depressions might broadcast.

A phrenologist might chart your head, and by an analysis of your surface indications learn you are sensible, thoughtful, serious and fond of home life.

An aggregation of natural virtues like those needs to be pepped up by something a little more intriguing in the way of a hat.

Or, there's an even chance your bumps might reveal a tendency toward vanity, worldliness, lack of consideration, and other qualities whose existence should never be allowed to leak beyond the home circle.

Plainly, a hat here is needed to assume the virtues the wearer has not.

In every wardrobe is a real need for three hats—a sensible one, a frivolous one and a personality hat. The sensible hat need not be unbecoming—far from it, note the one

TO THE PARK. Dr. and Mrs. Archie McConnell of Minot, who are motoring to the Yellowstone National Park have been visiting in the city for several days with friends.

GOING HOME. Mrs. N. C. Jackwitz of Kenmare who has been visiting her sister, Miss L. M. Johnstone of the Kona Apts. for the past week left yesterday for her home.

A NEW SILHOUETTE IS ON THE WAY

Here is a coming fashion in the act of casting its shadow before. Almost imperceptibly it has come about—the armhole has grown much smaller, sleeves are long and this and ruffle around the wrists, the bodice is fitted, the skirt full and rippling around the bottom, the neckline is no longer round but square.

Suggestions of this change have reached us for the past two seasons and the shops show summer dresses more and more approaching this silhouette. They are shown especially for girls and young women and are decidedly becoming to youthful faces and figures.

Organic and swiss are the favorite materials for dresses of this fashion, since their stiffness makes the new silhouette even more pronounced.

Typewriting is suggested by one doctor as a good change of occupation for people who are inclined to worry.

FASHION DESERTS SABLE FOR BROWN SHADES

Going, going and almost gone are the sable draperies of the past two seasons. Fashion has ceased mourning in black and is rejoicing in all the colorful variations of brown.

"Cinnamon," "mocha" and "rust" are three new shades. They are shown in afternoon, dinner and evening gowns in combination with autumnal reds, dull gold embroidery and gleaming bronze beads.

Evening gowns also are partial to buttercup yellows and to coral shades. Less trimming is used on these advance fall models than has been favored recently since the new lines—long and draped—make it unnecessary.

There will be instruction given in the church building every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday for girls.

COBB, SISLER STAGE PRETTY BATTING RACE

Flashy St. Louis Star Holds Leadership Over Georgia Peach, but Close

RUTH DOWN IN THE LIST

Home Run King Who Got Late Start Still Behind in Batting Circuit Drives

Chicago July 15.—Ty Cobb's challenge for the batting leadership of the American league was no flash in the pan, judging from averages compiled today which show the Detroit leader closing the gap separating him from George Sisler, the St. Louis marvel, who is leading the race with an average of .420.

Cobb is just fourteen points behind Sisler, as compared with thirty-one a week ago. The noted Georgian's remarkable batting streak netted him twenty hits in his last nine games, as against twelve hits collected by Sisler in eight games. Sisler's mark is .420 and Cobb's is .406.

Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Club, moved back into third place with an average of .364, deposing Harry Heilmann of Detroit, who dropped into fourth place with .354.

Sisler is without a dangerous rival in base stealing. He is showing his heels to the contenders with a string of thirty-two thefts, while Ken Williams, the home run hitter, is second in line with twenty-six.

The see-sawing fight between Williams and Tilly Walker of the Athletics for home run hitting continues with honors even, each having knocked out twenty-one. Ruth is down in the list with fourteen.

Other leading batters for fifty-five or more games: Miller, Philadelphia, .354; Schang, New York, .353; O'Neill, Cleveland, .349; Bassler, Detroit, .347; Blue, Detroit, .342; Witt, New York, .336; McManus, St. Louis, .333.

Perhaps the most impressive stick work in the National league was the hitting of Charlie Hollocher, the "Kid" shortstop with Chicago, who, in seven games, smashed out thirteen hits which enabled him to jump from ninth to third place in the list of leading sluggers with an average of .359.

Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, with his record of twenty-three home runs, continues to top the league in hitting, with an average of .399, nine points above his mark of a week ago. Hank Gowdy of Boston is second with .372.

Max Carey of Pittsburgh is holding on to the lead in base stealing with twenty-two, with Tierney also of Pittsburgh, second with sixteen. Hornsby is third with fourteen.

Other leading batters for fifty-five or more games: Birbeck, Pittsburgh, .358; Johnston, Brooklyn, .357; Grimes, Chicago, .357; Daubert, Cincinnati, .354.

JOHN B. KELLY (LEFT); WALTER HOOVER (RIGHT).

John B. Kelly, Olympic and world champion sculler, now in retirement, slipped Walter Hoover, Duluth Boat Club member, a few words of advice as he turned over the Gold Challenge cup to the winner of the event rowed on the Schuykill early in June.

"Make the Englishmen know you are better from the start and you will have no trouble collecting their diamond sculls," was Kelly's greeting. Hoover has collected the diamond sculls, and Kelly, the Vesper Boat Club oarsman, has announced that he will remain on land.

Although unbeaten for the world title, Kelly himself considers Hoover the champion of champions in a single padding event.

Garrett Gilmore, the youngster from Bachelors' Barge Club, Philadelphia, is looking wistfully at the Gold Challenge cup between Kelly and Hoover. Both predict Gilmore to be the next champ.

couple of bunts to demonstrate his versatility.

The Cardinals won a victory over the Phillies, 9 to 5, and put themselves within two and a half games of the Giants, who lost their second straight to Chicago. Virgil Chaves' relief pitching featured the club's triumph over McGraw's men, 8 to 4. Rixey shut out Boston 3 to 0, giving the Reds 3 out of 4 and dealing the Dodgers their eighth setback in nine games in the west, while Wilbur Cooper twirled the Pirates to a 6 to 1 victory over Boston.

Cleveland rallied in the eighth and ninth to win its fourth straight from the Red Sox and Washington scored five runs in the first enough to beat Chicago 7 to 3.

BARNES, GOLF CHAMP, HOLDS TENTH PLACE

Any One of a Score of Players May Now Win National Golf Championship

(By the Associated Press)

Glencoe, Ill., July 15.—Bobby Jones, Atlanta amateur shooting a sensational par 70 in his morning round, tied with William Melhorn, Shreveport, Louisiana, professional at 1 o'clock today for 54 holes of the 72 hole national open golf tournament.

Several of the stars who had low scores yesterday had reached only the 45 hole mark however: John Black, coast professional who was low yesterday with 145, had 178 at the 45th hole.

Melhorn had a total of 216, obtained largely through a fine 83, three under par. On the second morning nine Jack Hutchinson was struggling bravely to overcome yesterday's erratic work, shot 71 this morning and totalled 228, seven strokes behind Melhorn.

At the 45th hole Walter Hagen, 145 yesterday, had 182 because of a 37 this morning; Chick Evans, 184, and George Duncan of England, 184.

Abe Mitchell 229, and Willie Hunter 229 for 54 holes. British pro and amateur respectively, virtually were out of the running and George Duncan with 180 for 45 had little chance. Jim Barnes, present title holder, was going badly with 187 for 45 holes.

Scores at the end of 54 holes included Harrison Johnston, St. Paul, 284 and Jack Burke, St. Paul, 284.

Glencoe, Ill., July 15.—The likely winner of the national open golf championship title now held by James Barnes of New York had simmered down to one of a score of players at the start of the final 36 holes today as a result of the cards turned in yesterday by the field of 79, who qualified for competition in the event at the Skokie Country Club.

Barnes was tied for tenth place among that number with rounds of 74-76-149 to his credit, as against par of 140. With cards of 71-71-142, John Black was a leader at the end of the first two rounds. Ahead of Barnes also at the half way mark were William Melhorn of Shreveport, Louisiana, 73-71-144; Gene Sarazen of Pittsburgh, 72-73-145; Walter Hagen of Detroit, 68-77-145; Bobby Jones of Atlanta, who led the amateurs, 74-72-146; Lloyd Gulickson of Dekalb, Ill., 77-70-147; Chick

STEALING OCCUPIED BASE IN WORLD SERIES GAME

When a player steals a base with somebody occupying that particular bag, he is said to have pulled a "John Anderson."

The reason, of course, is that John Anderson is officially credited with being the first player to steal a base with the bag occupied.

Baseball historians have it that Anderson pulled such a "bone" for the first time, back in June 14, 1896, while playing for Washington, against Baltimore in the National League.

Anderson's stunt was pulled 25 years ago, but ball players have been doing the same thing ever since in the majors and minors. Hardly a year passes in the majors but someone pulls a "John Anderson."

Back in the 1917 world series between Chicago and New York, pitcher "Red" Faber pulled the trick. It was the first time anyone ever worked a "John Anderson" in the big series.

Faber, who rarely tries to steal a base, for some reason elected to steal third. Noticing the pitcher winding up he got a good lead and slid safely into third. Unfortunately, another Chicago player was occupying the base, and Red, much to his surprise and embarrassment, was tagged out.

Since Faber pitched and won three games against the Giants in that series, his "bone" on the bases didn't get much publicity. However, it stands out as the only time a player ever elected to steal a base in a world series with someone occupying the base.

An unusual minor league incident of a like nature was one successfully staged. McKee, of the San Francisco club, stole third with the bases filled and actually got away with it.

How come? Well, it so happened that the umpire ruled a balk on the pitcher, which entitled all base-runners to advance. It saved McKee from heading the list of ivory hunters.

GOLF TOURNEY WILL ATTRACT STATE'S BEST

Fargo Country Club to Entertain Golfers at Annual Contests Soon

Fargo, N. D., July 15.—The North Dakota amateur golf championship will be decided at the state tournament to be played at the Fargo Country Club Links, July 25 to 29. The competitions, both men and women, is open to any member in good standing of any club which belongs to the state golf association.

The 1922 rules will be strictly enforced and stymies will be played for the first time in North Dakota state competition.

Prizes will be given to the winner and runner up of the championship fight, and for the best score in the qualifying rounds; to the winner in match play of each succeeding light; to the winners of consolation tournaments.

In the women's championship, prizes go to the winner, runner up and the winner of the consolation event.

There will be a driving, approaching and putting contests with prizes, and also an eighteen hole medal play novice event open to all who have not previously competed in a state meet.

The winning team in the team competition will be for the club whose five team members make the low total in the qualifying round. This round is to be 54 holes medal play. The sixteen players qualifying with the lowest score will form the championship fight, the next sixteen, the second fight, etc.

Match play in the championship will be eighteen holes until semi-finals and finals, the last two rounds being at 36 holes.

Qualifying play will be Tuesday, July 25, each contestant playing 36 holes. Match play begins Wednesday with each contestant playing a match in the morning and the winners continuing play in another eighteen hole match in the afternoon. The women will play the qualifying round for the women's championship on Wednesday, the eight lowest scoring players to qualify for the championship. The losers in the morning play in the men's flights will also play the first round of consolation matches.

The semifinals in the championship play thirty-six hole on Thursday. The consolation flights play two rounds and the finals while the women continue playing eighteen holes in first flight and consolation.

The finals in the championship and the finals in the women's event are played Saturday.

Billy Evans Says

With the season less than half over major league clubs already are laying their plans for 1923.

With college baseball practically over for the year the big league scouts are getting ready to scour the minors for promising talent.

During the next few weeks the cream of the college talent, east and west, will be reporting to the various major league clubs. It is said that the college material of this year is very ordinary.

The so-called lively ball, plus the slam-bang tactics that are now in vogue has placed a decided premium on pitching. A club that lacks pitching in the majors these days can't hope to get very far.

It is a well known fact that all major league club owners have made it known very emphatically to their scouts that pitchers are much desired. Of course, stars of any other position will not be overlooked, but stress is laid on the necessity of digging up pitching material.

Johnny Evers, now scouting for the Chicago White Sox, is one individual who should know a ball player when he sees one. Evers has just returned from a three weeks' invasion of the south. During that time he looked over a number of minor league stars who are being much touted.

Knowing that he had been doing some scouting, and being interested in the baseball market, I asked him on his return if he had seen much promising material.

"I may be pessimistic, but in all my travels I didn't see a single player who looked to be ready for a big league trial at the present moment."

"I saw perhaps a dozen fellows in action who looked to have promise, and who might be ready for a chance in a couple of years. However, I was searching for players who would add immediate strength to our club. I didn't see one player of that type."

"Who were the best players I saw?"

"Well, you will be surprised when I tell you. When I say best,

I mean players who had, or seemed to have, the ability to help a major league club right off the reel.

"The best pitcher I saw was George McQuillen, who was a star in the National League a dozen years ago. McQuillen opposed one of the pitchers I was scouting. All he did was score a shutout."

ITALIAN WINS GRAND PRIX AUTO RACE

(By the Associated Press)

Strasbourg, July 15.—Felix Nazario of Italy won the eighth grand prix automobile race here today. His time for the distance of a fraction under 500 miles was 6 hours, seven minutes and two seconds and his average 127.7 kilometers per hour, breaking the grand prix record.

MARKET DULL

Domestic Oils Were Heavy—and the Closing Was Irregular

New York, July 15 (Wall Street)—Conflicting movements of a few of the leading industrial and oil furnished the only diverting features of today's dull stock market. Equities were strong at extreme gains of 1 to 4 points for Baldwin, American and Lima Locomotives. Pullman pressed steel car, railway steel spring and New York Air Brake. Domestic oils were heavy presumably as a result of cuts in crude products in the middle west and Pacific states. Standard Oil of California, Pacific Oil and several of the Mexican group forfeited 1 to 2 1/2 points. Speculators were firm to strong, particularly in corn products, Sears Roebuck, International Paper and American Woolen. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 325,000 shares.

At 10:30
The trend of prices at the opening of today's stock market was maintained upward, suggesting the usual week-end settlement of speculative accounts. Baldwin Locomotives was one of the noteworthy features, soon rising 1 1/2 points. Higher prices also ruled for American Woolen, Coca Cola, Sears Roebuck, American Smelting, People's Gas and various miscellaneous issues. Railway stocks declined to react, although an exception was shown by Western Pacific preferred, which rose 1 1/2 points. A decline of 1 1/2 points in Pacific Oil was accompanied by news of a cut in prices of crude oil products on the Pacific coast. Leading foreign exchanges were better on the improvement in the German situation.

OILS RECEIVE
BAD SETBACK IN PAST WEEK

Money Market Was in No Way Accountable for Declining Trend of Values

MEXICAN OIL DEPRESSED

(By the Associated Press)
New York, July 15.—Dullness and an irregular reaction of prices in many divisions of the stock market offset by a fair distribution of business, mainly at higher prices, in the bond market, were the conflicting features in Wall Street.

Prologation of the coal strike and latest aspects of the railway work-out exerted an increasing influence, regardless of the time-worn theory that labor disturbances are not to be regarded as more than sentimental factors.

Much of the week's unsettlement was occasioned by a sharp set-back in oil. Mexican scores severely depressed on a revival of "salt water" rumors, while domestic shares of that type owed their heaviness to fears of federal regulation.

The money market was in no sense accountable for the declining trend of values. Call loans eased to the unusually low quotations of the preceding month, commercial paper was in better demand and yet another cut in the British bank rate reflected the plethora of funds in London.

Germany's more acute problems were the subject of earnest discussion in banking circles and the cause renewed nervousness in the wide range of foreign currencies, sterling alone displaying relative steadiness.

The large gain in June bookings reported by the United States Steel confirmed estimates of a 75 per cent production by that corporation and the quarterly statements of independent companies notably Lackawanna Steel showed progressive improvement in earnings in the first half of the current year.

CINCH BUG
HAS INFLUENCE
ON MARKETCorn and Oats Were Governed by Action in Wheat

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, July 15.—Wheat prices during the early dealings were governed largely by the strength in Liverpool. Short covering was in evidence at the start and the local sentiment was mixed. The government report on Missouri telling of damage by cinch bugs was said to be more menacing than at any time during the past 25 years in that section. Also acted as a factor. After starting unchanged 1/4 higher with September 1.13 1/2 to 1.14 and December 1.16 1/2 to 1.17 1/2, the wheat market held near to the initial range.

Corn and oats were governed by the action in wheat. Trade in coarse grains was fairly fair. There was some buying of corn futures which was attributed to cash interests. The opening which ranged from unchanged figures to 1/4 c higher with September 68 1/2 followed by a slight rise all around.

DURUM MARKET
HAS BEEN WEAK

Receipts of Coarse Grains
Small with Poor Demand

(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, July 15 (U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics)—Apprehension regarding the possibility of railway labor troubles delaying the movement of flour brought local millers increased shipping orders the past week and there has been a good demand for wheat carlots during the entire week.

No. 1 dark northern spot sold 30 c at 43 cents over the September future which is about 10c better than the basis of prices a week ago.

Wheat to arrive has not followed fully the advance of spot prices. There has been very little activity in the futures. September closed the same as a week ago at 1.23 1/2.

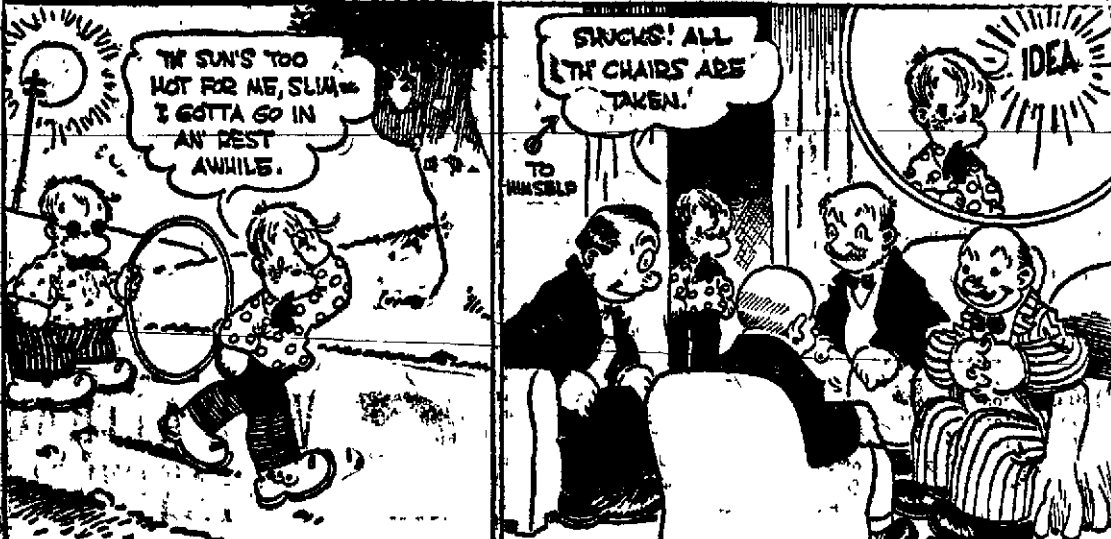

There has been no strength in the durum market. Receipts have been taken at unchanged basis but bids to arrive are lower.

Receipts of coarse grains have been small and not with a good demand.

WHEAT FIRM
AT CLOSEStrength Developed in the
Flaxseed Market

Duluth, Minn., July 15.—While trading in the wheat market today was fairly active prices moved within a narrow range. Firmness was shown as a result of lighter offerings and the fact that the movement of grain from the western districts to the markets might be held up through strike developments. The market was firm around the close. September wheat closed 1/4 c off at 1.23 1/2.

The market was firm around the close. September wheat closed 1/4 c off at 1.23 1/2. July durum closed 1/4 c up at 1.18 1/2 and September 1/4 c up at 1.22 1/2.

Flaxseed was firm around the close. September flaxseed closed 1/4 c up at 1.18 1/2 and July 1/4 c up at 1.17 1/2.

Minneapolis, July 15.—Wheat prices during the early dealings were governed largely by the strength in Liverpool. Short covering was in evidence at the start and the local sentiment was mixed. The government report on Missouri telling of damage by cinch bugs was said to be more menacing than at any time during the past 25 years in that section. Also acted as a factor. After starting unchanged 1/4 higher with September 1.13 1/2 to 1.14 and December 1.16 1/2 to 1.17 1/2, the wheat market held near to the initial range.

WHEAT FIRM
AT CLOSEStrength Developed in the
Flaxseed Market

Duluth, Minn., July 15.—While trading in the wheat market today was fairly active prices moved within a narrow range. Firmness was shown as a result of lighter offerings and the fact that the movement of grain from the western districts to the markets might be held up through strike developments. The market was firm around the close. September wheat closed 1/4 c off at 1.23 1/2.

W. F. STEGGE
SENTENCED TO LEAVENWORTH

Gets 18 Months for Violations of the National Banking Act

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., July 15.—W. F. Stegge, formerly cashier and later president of the First National Bank of Medina, North Dakota, was sentenced to a year and six months in the Leavenworth penitentiary for violations of the national banking act by Federal Judge C. F. Amundson here today. Sentence was given on two misappropriation of funds charges, three embezzlement charges being disregarded. The judge took occasion to score alleged secret re-counting between large and small banks, a practice which he said had caused the present trouble.

SURVEY SHOWS
EASTERN S. D.
IN GOOD SHAPE

Brookings, S. D., July.—A thorough survey of the eastern counties of South Dakota shows the small grain crops to be in a condition from a standpoint of rust infection which has not been equalled in years, according to Lynn D. Hutton, state leader of the barberry eradication work, stationed at State college. "This condition," he says, "is undoubtedly true for several reasons. As the barberry eradication campaign has progressed eastern South Dakota has become more and more completely cleared of the common barberry, the only bush which can spread black stem rust to the small grains. Of the two factors which govern the rust condition every year this is the most important. When these bushes are entirely eliminated the danger of severe rust epidemics in South Dakota will be eliminated. "The other factor is the weather condition. This spring has been very favorable to the growth of small grains but the weather has not been good for the multiplication of rust spores. Consequently, with harvest only two or three weeks off, we have very little rust and a very good small grain crop. If the present cool weather continues until harvest time small grain will fill well and rust will fail to germinate enough to do any great damage in this state."

SPECIAL RAIL
RATE WILL BE UP MONDAY

The question of granting special railroad rates to harvest laborers coming to North Dakota will be considered at a conference to be held Monday in St. Paul in the office of A. B. Smith, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railroad. The conference was arranged at the request of Governor R. A. Nestos. "Stating that he would be present," Governor Nestos said that representatives of various commercial organizations interested in procuring labor for the North Dakota harvest are invited to be present, or to send suggestions. Representatives of farm bureaus and commercial organizations are particularly invited. Representatives of the major railroad lines operating in the state are expected to be present.

KENMARE PLANS TO BUILD BIG POTATO WAREHOUSE
Kenmare, N. D.—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state incorporating the Kenmare Potato Warehouse association with a capital stock of $25,000. August Krantz, chairman of the board of county commissioners, John B. Weinberger, Lewis Knudsen, and David Clark, Jr., are the incorporators.

A potato warehouse is to be constructed immediately on the Soo line. It will be a one-story modern structure, 66 by 99 feet in size with a capacity of 40,000 bushels. The farmers and businessmen of Kenmare are financing the venture.

11 FIRMS BID FOR JOB; WAHPETON FIRM WINS
Grafton, N. D.—With 11 firms bidding, the general contract for the new custodial building for the state home here for the feeble-minded was let at $88,213 to Redlinger & Hanson of Wahpeton, while the plumbing and heating contract went to Spriggs & Sons of Grand Forks at $16,478. Seven bids were submitted on the general contract and four on the plumbing and heating. Contractors state that work on the new building will be begun soon as material can be obtained, and it is expected a large force of workmen will be engaged and the work rushed so that the structure can be inclosed before cold weather.

SAKAKAWA TRAIL APPROVED.
Ryder, N. D.—E. E. Fredeen is conferring with businessmen in the towns through which the Sakakawa trail will pass to test the sentiment regarding financial support and co-operation. Kenmare good roads boosters have already endorsed the Sakakawa trail, and the immigration and customs authorities at Northgate, Can., the port of entry it would pass through, have also approved it, it is said.

LEARN EDITORS INCOMES.
Brookings, S. D., July 15.—The average net income of South Dakota country editors for the year 1921 was $3,174.74. His gross income to the year averaged $7,288.48 on an investment which, exclusive of buildings averaged $5,524.63. The statistic has been gathered during the last spring by Paul W. Kieser, editorial editor of State College for the South Dakota Press association. Aside from this information Mr. Kieser learned that the average

By NEA Service
Seattle, July 15.—Over the North Pole in an airplane! This is the plan of Roald Amundsen, now on a seven-year's cruise in the Arctic, announced here by his business manager, Sir Haakon S. Hammer. Amundsen and his party are now nearing Point Barrow, most northern point of Alaska, in the schooner Maud. Here Amundsen and two pilots, Lieut. E. G. Fullerton and Lieut. Oscar Omdal, will hop off with gasoline and food to last 26 hours. They will fly to the North Pole and will land there for observations, if conditions are favorable, before continuing the flight. If conditions are unfavorable, they will proceed directly to their destination, Spitzbergen, north of the Scandinavian peninsula, or to Grant Land, depending upon the gasoline supply. The flight from Point Barrow to Spitzbergen under favorable conditions will be 1800 miles and will take 23 hours. In case of mishap, the adventures must depend upon carrier pigeons to carry word to rescuers and upon inflated pig-bladders to keep the plane afloat until help arrives. Amundsen expects to get invaluable scientific data on the flight, and will take motion pictures. In addition, data collected will aid greatly in directing the Maud's crew to the best advantage as his little vessel drifts through these regions, it is expected. Amundsen, upon completing the Point Barrow-Spitzbergen flight, will rejoin the scientists and sailors on the Maud, taking a plane from Seattle to the ice-bound schooner.

length of ownership of present country publishers in the state is 10 years and the average age of the editors is 44 years. Of the 110 publishers covered by the survey, forty are 50 years of age or over, while 17 are under thirty. The youngest publisher in the state is 19 years of age.

CONCRETE POURING UPON MILL TANKS COMPLETED

Grand Forks, N. D., July 14.—Pouring of concrete has been completed on the storage tanks at the state mill and elevator and as a result it has been possible to discontinue the night shift of workmen at the big plant. In the meantime work is being pushed on the cupola gallery which will contain the conveying machinery. Excavation for the machine shop has also been completed, and the work of erecting this building is about to begin. Work will also begin soon on the service building. This will be a two-story brick structure, and will contain the mill offices, and also a cafeteria, restroom, emergency hospital, etc. Equipment for the plant is arriving daily and no delay on that score is anticipated.

VETERINARIANS TO MEET
(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., July 15.—Veterinarians of North Dakota will hold their 21st annual convention here July 19-21. It was announced today. Among speakers on the program are Dr. C. P. Fitch and Dr. W. L. Boyd of Minnesota University; Dr. J. N. Frost, Cornell University, New York; Dr. H. H. Cohenour, federal inspector in charge of tuberculosis eradication in North Dakota and Dr. W. F. Crewe of the state livestock sanitary board.

BIG CREAM SHIPMENTS.
Velva, N. D., July 15.—During the month of June 933 10-gallon cans of cream were shipped out of Velva containing approximately 24,825 pounds of butterfat. The average price paid to farmers at Velva was 31 cents per pound a total paid to farmers in the Velva community for the month was $7,695.74.

HUSTLING FOR BUSINESS
Dickinson, N. Dak., is known as "The Queen City of the Prairie," and it is well named. This statement made by F. B. Romanowsky, special representative for the Goodyear Tires Rubber Company is verified by the many live business men of the town. For instance, Mr. Romanowsky states, the Dickinson Vulcanizing Shop is one of the largest Good-year dealers between Fargo and Miles City. They have developed a splendid tire service and repair business because they go get the orders—not waiting for customers to come in. H. R. Peck, proprietor, looks for the largest business in their history during the coming season.

100 SHOTS EXCHANGED.
Ennis, Tex., July 15.—First disorders here in connection with the shopmen's strike occurred early today when more than a hundred shots were exchanged between alleged strikers and sympathizers and thirty guards in the Houston and Texas Central (Southern Pacific) yards. The disorders were soon quelled.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 15.—The west bound Wolverine Flyer, the Michigan Central's finest train, went over loosened tracks, two miles east of Battle Creek at noon today and five rear coaches were derailed while the main line track was torn up for about a quarter of a mile. Two persons were slightly injured. All cars remained connected and upright.

ASKS HARDING
PLAN REJECTED

President Lewis of Mine Workers Against It

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, July 15.—Members of the general policy committee of the miners unions, the body having full power to decide for all of the coal workers on strike in the bituminous fields and on work suspension in the anthracite fields, held a two hour session today during which John L. Lewis, president of the organization, recommended that "President Harding's arbitration proposal for strike settlement be unqualifiedly rejected. The discussion which began among the 150 odd subordinate officials of the miners' union had barely gotten under way when a noon recess was taken. The first speeches made by committee members were said to have supported Mr. Lewis' position in general. Participation in the meeting expected a vote before night to determine finally the union's position.

BINDER TWINE
ORDERS HEAVY
AT STATE PEN

Prospect of a big harvest has brought a rush of orders for twine to the North Dakota penitentiary, according to Warden L. L. Stair. The prison has sold 375,000 pounds of twine thus far this season. Fourteen carloads were shipped Wednesday. More twine has been made this year than in any previous year during his administration, according to the warden.

The brick factory which was recently opened has produced 100,000 bricks, which are in sheds, and 340,000 bricks are ready to burn.

TARIFF PROVISIO
IS REJECTED

Washington, July 15.—The senate today rejected 56 to 32 the provision of the tariff bill proposing to discontinue the existing dye embargo for one year from the passage of the bill.

Fifteen Republicans joined with the solid Democratic minority in opposing the provision. They included Senator Nelson, Minnesota. By unanimous agreement on motion of Chairman McCumber of the finance committee there was eliminated the further provision in the bill under which the dye embargo might have been continued for an additional year by the president upon satisfactory showing of the necessity for such a step.

WON FORD CAR.
Wilton, N. D., July 15.—T. H. Steffen, assistant cashier of the Wilton bank, drew the lucky number for the Ford sedan given by the local American Legion. His ticket was 181.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED.
Wilton, N. D., July 15.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wilton Elevator company was held here. Messrs. John Noon and Oscar Balkman were elected members of the board of directors to succeed Ludwig Michel and C. W. Johnson. The following officers were named: Albin Redstrom, president; Jos. Ellendorf, vice-president; John Noon, secretary; John A. Johnson, treasurer.

MOONSHINER SENTENCED.
Linton, N. D., July 15.—Anton Darsen, Hazelton, N. D., was arrested Saturday of last week charged with manufacturing moonshine. He was taken before Judge McKenna, pleaded guilty and was given ninety days in jail and a fine of $200. Failure to pay the fine will cause the prisoner to be kept in jail for an additional fifty days. State's Attorney Coven-

Firestone
GUM-DIPPED CORDS
and Their High Mileage Records

The high mileage records of Firestone Cords continue to emphasize the fact that Firestone methods are different and better. These records, steadily increasing in number and in mileage totals, justify the Firestone contention that there is one best way to build tires.

Among the primary sources of Firestone extra mileage is double gum-dipping—the saturation of the cord plies in a vat of liquid gum—thus coating each cord and virtually eliminating internal heat and friction.

Another is Firestone air bag curing, with its 200 pound pressure, which places every cord accurately and equalizes the tension.

By blending the rubbers of different plantations and types, and by tempering it before mixing, Firestone men add still more mileage.

Many cord tires are good—a few are better—Firestone users say one is best.

Those who have already experienced Firestone mileage, have stopped shopping and experimenting—they have made these cords standard equipment. Investigate your friends' success with Firestone Cords—and buy your next tire accordingly. Come in and get your share of extra mileage.

Your Money
can be either a willing slave or a hard master.
Let it get out of bounds and it will teach you the misery of debt and discouragement.
Keep it under control and it will free you of financial worries, give you courage, and help you to live happily and well.
A checking account with us gives you the upper hand.
